

Further Appeals

If your appeal is unsuccessful you cannot appeal again until the next academic year unless there has been a major change in the circumstances of the parent, child or school, since the original application e.g. you have changed address.

What can I do if I'm unhappy about the Panel's Decision?

There is no further right of appeal either to the authority, the appeal panel or the Secretary of State for Education. You are entitled to write to the Secretary of State about any aspect of your child's education. The Local Government Ombudsman can investigate written complaints about maladministration on the part of an admission appeals panel. This is not a right of appeal and has to relate to issues such as a failure to follow correct procedures or a failure to act independently, rather than just the person making the complaint thinks the decision is wrong. The information you provide as part of the appeals process may be disclosed to the Local Government Ombudsman as part of their investigation into complaints submitted by other appellants. This personal information will not be disclosed to the complainant. Under Section 29 of the Local Government Act 1974 the Local Authority is legally required to provide this information to the Ombudsman if requested.

For further information please call the LGO Advice Team on 0300 061 0614 or visit the website www.lgo.org.uk

The Governing Body manages pupil admissions to Academies, Trust and Voluntary Aided Schools and any appeals should be made directly to the Chair of the Governors at the school address.

6th Form Appeals

Pupils seeking admission or transfer to the 6th form of a school may be selected on the basis of academic ability usually a requirement to have attained a specified number of GCSEs and/or specified grade. These requirements should be set out in the schools prospectus. However, the fact that a child has been assessed as being suitable for entry to a 6th form does not necessarily guarantee them a place if the school is oversubscribed. For further information on appeals please refer to the individual school 6th Form prospectus
