Request:

Under the FOIA, I would like to know a) if you offer a discount for residents that pay their council tax in one single lump sum.

If the answer the above question a) is yes, then I'd like to know:

- b. how much this discount is
- c. when you introduced this discount, if known
- d. In each of the past three tax years, how many households who paid council tax have chosen to pay by one lump sum.

Can I have the total number of households that paid council tax for context?

Response:

North Tyneside Council do not offer a discount for residents who pay their council tax in one single lump sum.
