**The Authority considers the inclusion of social value questions in all of its procurement exercises which is determined at the point of tender. The outcomes of the tendering exercise are monitored by individual service areas as part of their contract management meetings. There is no central record of this information and the offer may be dependent upon the level of work received by the contractor, for example if the contract is a framework with multiple suppliers, and in some cases may not be delivered or measurable until the end of the contract.**
