

A vibrant graphic for the 'Year of the Voice of the Child' campaign. It features a central blue banner with the word 'Voice' in white, and an orange banner below it with the word 'Child' in white. Between these banners, the words 'Year of the' and 'of the' are written in white on smaller blue rectangular backgrounds. The graphic is surrounded by colorful rays of light in shades of blue, orange, and green, and scattered stars in blue, green, and orange. Several diverse cartoon children are integrated into the design: a boy with a blue beanie at the top, a girl with glasses in the middle, and a boy with glasses at the bottom left. Other children's faces are partially visible behind the banners.
